

Task 4: Using the Power of three phrases that you have created in task 3 as well as additional original ideas, write a paragraph for a letter explaining why you are right for the job, including phrasal powers of three.

Remember that you need to write persuasively whilst also using your imagination as you are writing as your own made-up character that has recently returned from war. Therefore you would definitely use your loyal service to commander spencer in the war as a way to persuade him to accept you for the job at St Mary's!

Challenge

Attempt to integrate other language features into your paragraph such as:

Relative clauses: The loss of my money, which has led me to seek employment, has meant that I have been without a home for some time.

Fronted adverbials: As a result of the war,

Adjectival power of three: I am confident, conscientious and sedulous.

Causal conjunctions: as a result, therefore, because, consequently

Contrasting conjunctions: However, nevertheless, on the other hand, but

Give yourself two house points for each that you use!
